

STEPHEN MOSLEY

SCHOOL OF MOTORING

Our New Price List Effective Monday 6th April 2020

Firstly let me start by saying Thank You to you all for choosing to learn to drive with Stephen Mosley's Driving School. We pride ourselves on providing quality tuition at affordable prices. We also guarantee that there will not be more than 1 price rise in any 12 month period.

However, due to recent greater than inflation rises in the cost of parts and labour to the automotive industry, we have decided to raise our prices by £1 per hour from Monday 6th April 2020. Any customer that has paid for a block of lessons before the 5th April 2019 will not be asked to pay the difference and any customer that has a test already scheduled for April will not be asked to pay any more up to the date of their existing test.

Also, any customer that wishes to pay for a block of lessons before the 5th April 2019 will get the lessons at the current price and will not be asked to pay any extra until that block of lessons has been used up. You will find the current and new prices below.

We hope you understand the need for this price increase and we are confident that we still provide the highest standard of lessons at a competitive local price. We look forward to continuing to provide quality driving lessons for you all throughout 2020.
